Pub Date: 2012 08 Pages: 308 Language: Chinese in Publisher: Hefei University Press. Proceedings of the 12th National Conference of the expansion joint: the expansion joint design and manufacture of applied technology progress in recent years about the expansion joint technology The research highlights, which relates to the theoretical study of circular, rectangular, metal, non-metallic materials, expansion joints, technology developments, design, manufacture, inspection, failure analysis and engineering applications, and fully reflects our expansion joint technology research the progress, has a strong engineering practicality. 12th National the expansion joint Conference Proceedings: expansion joint technical progress for the design and manufacturing applications suitable for engineering and technical personnel engaged in the expansion joint research, design, manufacture, use, inspection, security monitoring and universities related professional teachers' reference. Contents: 1. Expansion joints commonly used international standards and the latest research directions introduced. Abroad bellows expansion joints standard describes 3. Bellows expansion joints in the Application and Prospects of Water Resources and Hydropower industry. Numerical simulation technology in the design of bellows 5 design work of the expansion joint industry status quo and suggestions, latest EJMA standard amendments and analysis 7. ASME Code Case 2587 and 2593-1 and its formation process introduced in accordance with the norms of SVTI 704 the GIS expansion joint product quality management overview 9. ASME U Stamp corrugated expansion joint design validation 10 Analysis and Discussion of issues related to design, manufacture and testing of metal bellows 11. expansion the section samples Rated displacement calculation, mark and applications 12. bellows failure mechanism and methods of computation 13 metal bellows fatigue life study describes 14. assessment of 15 two expansion joints universal ring quality of life analysis of composite bellows carrying...
