C. 500 A. D. 1900 In presenting to my friends and to the public the second volume of the Dictionary of Medallists, I wish to express my deep gratitude for the very kindly reception given to the first, the sympathy and approbation of those who have accepted what has been done, and excused deficiencies, errors and oversights, which the wide range of my subject rendered unavoidable. Still more diffident in my own powers, but not less trusting in the generosity of my critics, I venture to send out the present volume. I feel I may justly be accused of devoting too much space to the works of contemporary medallists, sculptors, and amateurs, who, though they may be skilful modellers, have never had any training in actual metal work, either in casting or in die-engraving, and are not therefore, as were the older medallists, masters of the material in which their works are finally to appear. The...
